The Garland Library of War and Peace...

“The Garland Library of War and Peace is a most comprehensive, carefully selected, and thoughtfully introduced series. The introductions to each volume deserve special mention. Each volume begins with an introduction prepared especially for this series. These introductions serve to place the works in their historical context and to give some understanding of the significance of each section within the body of anti-war literature. In general they are excellent, and they are a valuable framework for this timely and relevant library. Any library for advanced undergraduate or scholarly use will want this collection...”

“By any measure, this thoughtful collection of essays, books, reviews, and articles, long o.p., is formidable. The publication dates included in its 328 volumes range from circa 1312 for Dante's De Monarchia, to 1973 for several special documentary anthologies edited especially for this series...”

“The editors of the Garland Library of War and Peace have assembled 360 titles dealing with humanity's efforts to cope with its wars and violence. Their intent is to make available to contemporary students and scholars a significant body of o.p. anti-war literature as a coherent basis for a renewed study of opposition to war. Their editorial choice is timely.”

“The thoroughness of this collection is further underscored by its inclusion of a great variety of approaches to the problem of war. Although gathered together by a very capable triad of historians, the psychological, economic, technological, religious, political, and philosophical disciplines, among still others, find expression of their particular concerns here...”

“Any researcher, or undergraduate, who has faced the banks of card catalogs with fear and shudders of anticipated frustration will appreciate the systematic organization of this vast body of literature...”

“Recommended very highly.”

Each volume is available individually, but a substantial discount is given for full-set orders.

A team of nearly 100 noted scholars has been assembled to write new and authoritative introductions to all volumes.

Each volume includes Cataloging in Publications (CIP) data on the verso of the title page.

IN TRAINING OR FOUR TEXTS FOR THE ON THE JOB MODERN LIBRARIAN

COMPUTER-BASED REFERENCE SERVICE

M. Lorraine Mathies and Peter G. Watson

To cope with the new computer-based systems, today's librarian must learn the language and technique of automated data bases. Here is a work which explains in detail the principles of machine indexing and processing of documents as well as the logical and arithmetic concepts which underlie them. With this knowledge, the modern librarian and information specialist can manipulate these new systems for information retrieval with much greater effectiveness. ERIC is presented as a model or prototype computerized data base, from which broader generalizations, applying to all automated systems, are drawn. Lucidly written and employing a minimum amount of jargon, this book is essential for student and working reference librarians alike.

SERIAL PUBLICATIONS

Their Place and Treatment in Libraries
Second edition

Andrew D. Osborn

The standard treatise for both the working librarian and the student on the selection, processing, cataloging, and servicing of serials is here brought up to date. Osborn emphasizes the implications of developments new to the profession: the growth of computer technology, the Anglo-American Cataloging Rules of 1967, the use of Coden, and the emergence of the book catalog for serials. He sets forth sound principles and relates them to actual practice.

THE ACQUISITION OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

Stephen Ford

Designed as a textbook for library schools and as a conceptual manual for practicing acquisitions librarians, this is the only systematic and up-to-date exposition of recommended modern practices. It covers the general principles of searching, ordering, and processing of both print and nonprint materials and analyzes those special problems which are of prime importance in modern acquisitions practice: blanket ordering, new book purchasing, automation and centralized processing. Describes recommended procedures and notes necessary variations by size and type of library.

FUNDAMENTAL REFERENCE SOURCES

Frances Neal Cheney

Ideal for beginning or intermediary courses in reference work, this volume provides an introduction to selected sources of bibliographical, biographical, linguistic, statistical, and geographical information and offers detailed suggestions for their effective use. "An admirably successful exposition of the reference process in terms of basic underpinnings in published information resources. It should be extremely valuable to professionals and as an instructional too." —Library Journal

GALE'S BASIC REFERENCE TOOLS

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF ASSOCIATIONS: A Guide to National and International Organizations Eighth Edition with Thousands of Changes and 1,224 New Entries

The Encyclopedia of Associations has traditionally been consulted first by librarians searching for sources of current, authoritative information which associations are uniquely equipped to provide on innumerable subjects. The reliability and usefulness of the Encyclopedia in the coming months have been maintained and enhanced through thorough checking, thousands of revisions, and the addition of 1,224 listings. • Volume 1, National Organizations of the United States. In the base volume 17,886 national, nonprofit organizations and selected international associations are grouped into 18 categories according to their principal interests. A typical entry covers 17 vital items, including organization's name, address, chief executive, phone number, purpose, publications, and convention schedule. With 41,000-item keyword/alphabetical index. (Ready July, 1973) 1546pp. $45.00. • Volume 2, Geographic-Executive Index. The Geographic Section lists in state and city order all the associations which are arranged in Volume 1 according to subject interest. Included are addresses, phone numbers, and names of executives. The Executive Section lists by surname all the executives mentioned in Volume 1, followed by their titles, names of their organizations, and location (city and state). (Ready July, 1973) 512pp. $28.50. • Volume 3, New Associations and Projects. A quarterly supplement providing subscribers with details on hundreds of new groups. Inter-edition subscription, with binder, $48.00.

BOOKMAN'S PRICE INDEX: A Guide to the Values of Rare and Other Out-of-Print Books Volumes Six and Seven—The Latest Additions to This Useful Series

The sixth volume has just been added to the now-standard Bookman's Price Index series, bringing the total number of listings of antiquarian books and periodicals to nearly 300,000. Volume Seven, which adds over 35,000 more entries, is slated for publication in August, 1973. BPI is comprised of listings of books offered for sale at $10.00 or more in recent catalogs issued by the world's leading rare book sellers, specialist dealers, and O.P. bookmen. So that the user may quickly and easily determine the approximate value of a book, the offerings of the dealers are arranged in a single alphabet by author. Each entry gives author, title, place and date of publication, pagination or collation, condition, dealer's name, catalog number, and item number, year the catalog was issued, and price of the book. A master finding list, BPI is the only index to the bibliographical data in dealers' catalogs. (Volumes 1 to 6, in print; Volume 7, ready August, 1973) $38.50 per volume.

AB Bookman's Weekly: "Still the most comprehensive, clearest general price guide of its kind!"

American Reference Books Annual: "The set is recommended as a must for all larger public and university libraries."

CONTEMPORARY AUTHORS: A Bio-Bibliographical Guide to Current Authors and Their Works Announcing Volume 37-40, The Latest Unit in the Series

With the publication of Volume 37-40, the Contemporary Authors series provides full bio-bibliographical information on 33,000 of today's active writers. Nearly 29,700 of the listings in CA cannot be found in any other biographical reference work. The sketches in all the CA volumes are uniform in style and format; each presents personal and career facts, a complete bibliography, work in progress, sidelights, and biographical/critical sources. Covering the entire series, the cumulative index in Volume 37-40 also includes references to authors in Volume 1 of Contemporary Literary Criticism, a new companion series described below. Continuing a policy begun in Volume 25-28, the current volume contains the names, occupations, death dates, and references to obituaries of authors and, occasionally, others prominent in the arts who have died recently. (Volumes 1-4 and 5-8 have been completely revised.) CA is sold in four-volume units, $25.00 per unit.

Booklist: "The bibliographies are not only accurate but comprehensive and, in many instances, unavailable in general biographical sources . . . The volumes are attractively bound in brown cloth; the print is clear and legible on paper of good quality. The volumes appear to be standing up well under constant usage . . . Contemporary Authors is recommended for junior and senior high school, college, and public libraries that face the problem of providing biographical material about current authors who are not listed in other sources."

CONTEMPORARY LITERARY CRITICISM: Excerpts from Criticism of the Works of Today's Novelists, Poets, Playwrights, and Other Creative Writers Volume One of the New Series is Now in Print

The first volume of this continuing series has been published, and will be followed by the second in Fall, 1973. The series is devoted entirely to current evaluations of both new and established modern authors (now living or deceased since 1960). Contemporary Literary Criticism series complements Gale's Contemporary Authors series, and if an author in CLC also appears in CA, the entry in CLC refers to the specific volume of CA which furnishes full bio-bibliographical information on the author. Succeeding volumes in the CLC series will contain criticism on authors not previously covered, plus new criticism on authors already treated in earlier volumes. Each entry includes lengthy excerpts from one to a dozen or more appraisals of an author's work taken from both major and minor reviewing media; excerpts may treat one of the author's works or his entire canon. Volume 1 includes nearly 1100 individual excerpts taken from about 250 books and several hundred issues of some 50 general magazines. A typical volume covers about 200 authors in about 450 pages. Cumulative indexes of authors and critics in every volume after the first will direct users to all volumes containing criticism on a given author. (Volume 1, in print; Volume 2, ready August, 1973) $25.00 per volume.
